The Future of Design Is Here
For over 30 years, NSAD has offered leading architecture programs, including its Master of Architecture program which is ranked as one of the Top 30 in the World by Frame magazine. Our newest programs in product design, interior design, digital arts, animation, game art and game programming have been developed in collaboration with two award-winning design schools: Media Design School in Auckland, New Zealand and Domus Academy in Milan, Italy. NSAD is part of Laureate Design Universities, a network of leading art and design universities offering programs in the world’s global design centers: Milan, London, Dubai, Shanghai, San Diego, Santa Fe and Auckland. This extensive network creates unique learning opportunities for students as well as exposing them to the world of design through our strong industry partnerships.

NEW SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE + DESIGN
The NewSchool of Architecture and Design was founded in 1980 and offers Bachelor’s and Master’s programs in Architecture. Both programs offer a first professional degree accredited through NAAB (National Architectural Accrediting Board). The School of Architecture also offers an Executive Master’s program in Architecture, a Bachelor of Science in Construction Management and an online Master of Construction Management. Over the years NSAD has partnered with global architecture firms such as Bjarke Ingels Group and Gensler to provide students with real industry exposure to enhance their career opportunities after graduation.

MEDIA DESIGN SCHOOL OF DIGITAL ARTS
The Media Design School of Digital Arts at NSAD was established in 2013 as a unique collaboration between NewSchool of Architecture and Design in San Diego, California, and the industry-recognized Media Design School in Auckland, New Zealand, which has been providing higher education for creative industries since 1998. Through this collaboration, NSAD is offering four undergraduate programs: Bachelor of Science in Digital Media Arts, Bachelor of Arts in Animation, Bachelor of Arts in Game Art and Bachelor of Science in Game Programming.

DOMUS ACADEMY SCHOOL OF DESIGN
The Domus Academy School of Design at NSAD, established in 2013, is a unique collaboration between NewSchool of Architecture and Design in San Diego, California, and the world-renowned Domus Academy in Milan, Italy, which includes its Master of Architecture program. Through this collaboration, NSAD is offering two undergraduate programs: Bachelor of Arts in Interior Design and Bachelor of Arts in Product Design. Each program includes an integrated study-abroad component at the Domus Academy campus in Milan, one of the world’s design capitals.
Laureate Design Universities help students prepare for global careers in any field that seeks creative thinkers. Through career-focused academic programs featuring hands-on curricula and study abroad opportunities, students gain unique experiences and international perspectives that will help them succeed as creative professionals and global citizens. The five universities that form this group: NewSchool of Architecture and Design, Santa Fe University of Art and Design, Media Design School, Domus Academy, and NABA - Nuova Accademia di Belle Arti Milano, are connected through shared curricula, visiting faculty members, and collaborative projects. They are part of the Laureate International Universities network, a global network of more than 75 accredited campus-based and online universities offering undergraduate and graduate degree programs to more 800,000 students around the world.

San Diego blends local and global influences, city and nature: coastal town meets urban metropolis. Our campus lies in the heart of the downtown innovation, art and design district. Here artists, architects and designers are transforming once-empty industrial space into contemporary, creative studios, offices and residences. The result is the ideal destination for students to learn design – both now and in the future.

NewSchool of Architecture and Design is accredited by the Accrediting Council for Independent Colleges and Schools to award bachelor's degrees and master's degrees.

In the United States, most state registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), which is the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes three types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture, the Master of Architecture, and the Doctor of Architecture. A program may be granted a 6-year, 3-year, or 2-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards. Doctor of Architecture and Master of Architecture degree programs may consist of a pre-professional undergraduate degree and a professional graduate degree that, when earned sequentially, constitute an accredited professional education. However, the pre-professional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree. NewSchool of Architecture and Design offers the following NAAB-accredited degree programs:

B. Arch. (236 quarter undergraduate credits)
M. Arch. (pre-professional degree + 90 quarter graduate credits)
M. Arch. (non-pre-professional degree + 150 quarter credits)
M. Arch. (license +pre-professional degree + 45 quarter credits)
