

NewSchool Update: COVID-19 (Coronavirus Disease 2019) Information

Update: 3/10/20

NewSchool of Architecture & Design is closely monitoring the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) outbreak and its potential impact on our students, faculty, and staff. We are following the daily and ongoing guidance and recommendations provided by the Centers for Disease Control on the status of the virus in the U.S. to ensure we make informed decisions that are right for our entire NewSchool community.

We want our NewSchool community to be healthy and safe. Symptoms of the virus are fever, sore throat, cough, shortness of breath, muscle aches, and diarrhea. To help prevent the spread of the coronavirus in your community, please be sure to wash your hands regularly, cover your mouth and nose with your elbow when you cough or sneeze, and avoid close contact with people who have respiratory symptoms such as coughing and sneezing. If you or a member of your family is sick, please avoid class, work or travel to prevent spreading any illness to others and consider seeking out your health care provider's advice.

Visibly sick students displaying the symptoms listed above will be sent home with an excused absence.

Disinfectant soap and water, as well as hand sanitizer, are available for student, faculty, staff, and visitor use at NewSchool's campus.

Detailed information about the Coronavirus, how it is transmitted, how to protect against it, and areas to avoid travel is available at the following websites:
